Dear Dr. Knutsen:

Thank you for sending me your paper which I put aside temporarily. I have now begun looking at it. The main point of this letter is to apologize for my delay. I am, you might be interested to know, in the process of writing a sort of guide book for the federal state intended for those East European countries which so badly need something of the sort. It's obvious from my present very brief inspection of your paper that I should read it with great care for its contribution to that project. I'm taking it with me on a long trip I'm about to undertake and will give you any comments I may have when I get back.

Sincerely,

Gordon Tullock

Dear Dr. Knutsen:

I am now back from my long trip and have looked over your paper with considerable care. I find I have relatively little in the way of comments. You seem to draw on a number of pre-existing constitutions including the Confederate States of America and although your selection is eclectic, it seems to be sound.

Sincerely,

Gordon Tullock
